COCKTAILS

Strange Brew: 22 Over-the-Top Cocktails Worth Trying Once

By Aly Walansky

Not satisfied with simple martinis or whiskey on rocks, cocktail bars have turned to serving up drinks with smoke and fire, in fish tanks and soup cans, and plated like entrees at Michelin-starred restaurant. Here are some of the most out-there cocktails we've encountered — every one of them a testament to creative bartenders with a little too much time on their hands.

Unicorn Cocktail

At Terranea Resort in Rancho Palos Verdes California, the Unicorn Cocktail is served at the resort's signature restaurant mar'sel upon request. This treat contains 2 oz. Tanqueray 10, .5 oz. Lime Juice, .5 oz. Lemon Juice, .75 oz. Simple syrup, 1 barspoon strawberry sorbet. It's topped with orange and turmeric foam, Chantilly cream laced with blue curacao, and is garnished with sprinkles.
