

<http://www.esquire.com/lifestyle/g3209/valentines-day-vacation-ideas/?slide=7>

5 Perfect Valentine's Day Getaways and the Gifts to Go With Them

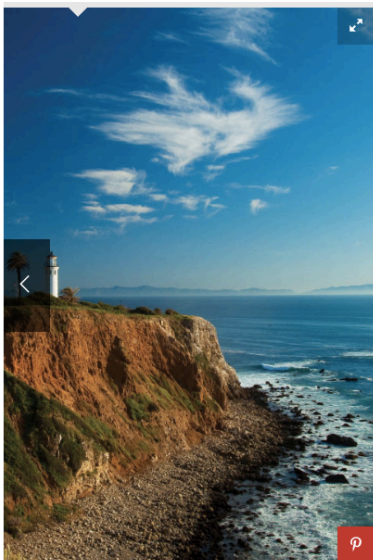

Yes, it's a silly holiday. But you should still nail it anyway.

BY INDIA-JEWEL JACKSON JAN 25, 2017

Heart-shaped boxes of waxy chocolate don't exactly scream "I put thought into this gift." Turn an otherwise sappy, greeting-card holiday into a weekend you'll both remember by planning a quick trip that nods to who she is and what she enjoys. Here are five escapades she'll love (along with a few presents to make it extra memorable).

If She's a Work-a-holic...

Where to Go: Rancho Palos Verdes, California, because it's perched atop a cliff on the isolated Palos Verdes Peninsula and we can't think of a better place to kick back and unplug. Also because look at it. Do you really need any more reason than that?

Where to Sleep: Terranea Resort. Hole up at the luxury oceanfront property (with four pools, eight restaurants, a wellness center, and a ton of aquatic activities), and book yourselves into the award-winning 50,000-square-foot The Spa at Terranea for a day of R&R.

What to Do: Take her to Wayfarers Chapel, the impressive stone-and-glass sanctuary where Marilyn Monroe wed Joe DiMaggio. When you're done, tee off at the scenic Los Verdes Golf Course, where you two can play a full round overlooking the tranquil Pacific shoreline.