HISTORICAL TIMELINE

A NEW CHAPTER FOR A HISTORIC SITE ALONG THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COASTLINE

Magnificently poised along one of Southern California's most scenic and coveted coastlines in Rancho Palos Verdes, Terranea Resort has emerged as an exceptional resort that embraces its natural landscape and historical setting to deliver a distinctive, classic California lifestyle experience.

Long before the resort's debut in June 2009, this pristine setting served as backdrop to a rich heritage and diverse ecology. Guests today need not look far for remnants of this vibrant past, delicately preserved amid the warm ambiance and breathtaking vistas above the Pacific Ocean.

Early Traces:

Once a part of the Channel Islands, the Palos Verdes Peninsula shifted slowly over millions of years and fused to the mainland coast of California. As a result, there is a unique collection of rocks and plant species that can only be found along the Peninsula and on the Islands.

Palos Verdes takes its name from Cañada de Palos Verdes – or “canyon of green trees.” Prior to Juan Cabrillo's Spanish discovery of the Peninsula in 1542, the indigenous Gabrielino-Tongva Tribe lived prosperous lives as seafarers, traders, and fishermen on this land's terraced hills and sheltering coves. Years passed as stewardship slipped from Spanish land grants to private ownership, until the 1913 purchase of 16,000 acres by a consortium of New York investors led by Frank A. Vanderlip.

Vanderlip, considered the founding father of the Palos Verdes Peninsula, built the first homes and grand estates on the land in 1924, inspired by a vision of coastal Mediterranean villages that Terranea has since resurrected. Japanese farming communities, developed in the early 1900's, also influenced and helped cultivate the peninsula's natural character. On the northwest hillside adjacent to Terranea remains one of the last Japanese farms, growing flowers and prickly pears.

Hollywood History:

Terranea's scene-stealing backdrop has attracted Hollywood film crews since the 1950s, when Lloyd Bridges starred as ex-Navy diver Mike Nelson in the popular TV adventure series, Sea Hunt. The popular black-and-white program was filmed in and around the present resort site throughout four seasons from 1958 – 1961. At the time, the land was home to Marineland of the Pacific. Sea Hunt is recognized as the first television series that focused on underwater adventures and provided an early platform for the protection of the Earth's resources.

Since then, Terranea's dramatic landscape and oceanfront setting has been featured in numerous television and feature film productions, including:

- Fun with Dick 'N Jane (Jim Carrey)
- Pirates of the Caribbean 1, 2, & 3 (Johnny Depp)
- The Aviator (Leonardo DiCaprio)
- Pearl Harbor (Ben Affleck, Kate Beckinsale)
- Charlie's Angels (Cameron Diaz, Lucy Liu, Drew Barrymore)
- GI Jane (Demi Moore, Anne Bancroft)
- Con Air (Nicolas Cage, John Cusack, John Malkovich)
- Face/Off (John Travolta, Nicolas Cage, Joan Allen)
- The O.C.
- The Beverly Hillbillies
- Hart to Hart
- The Lucy Show
- The Partridge Family
- This Is 40
- Savages

Area Milestones:

In 1954, the site became home to Marineland of the Pacific, a seaside animal theme park, which was the world's largest oceanarium when it opened. Opening one year before Disneyland, many considered it California's first major theme park. It was best known for its performing Orcas or "killer whales." Marineland was sold and closed in 1986 when acquired by Sea World in San Diego (which had opened in 1964).

The City of Rancho Palos Verdes was incorporated in 1973.

Monaghan Development Company purchased the property in 1987 and began the process to develop a hotel on the site. Monaghan abandoned its efforts in 1994 and property ownership was transferred to the Resolution Trust Corporation. Jim York purchased the land in 1995 from the RTC and began efforts to have the property approved for residential and hotel use.

The 10-year journey to develop what is now Terranea Resort began in 1997.

- Summer 2002: The City of Rancho Palos Verdes approved the project
- Summer 2003: The California Coastal Commission (CCC) approved the project
- Summer 2004: The City of Rancho Palos Verdes approved the CCC's modification
- Fall 2004: Property was purchased
- March 2007: Groundbreaking for Terranea Resort
- June 2009: Terranea Resort opens

- ❖ Your feet are planted on an ancient island. The Palos Verdes Peninsula was once part of the Channel Islands archipelago and a sister to the island you see west of Terranea, Catalina Island.
- ❖ Guests can watch the sun rise and set over the Pacific Ocean, all in a single day. The resort's unique setting affords panoramic coastal views and an unrivaled vantage point to enjoy both sunrise and sunset.
- ❖ California gray whales migrate the waters just offshore from December through May, and blue whales, May through November. Guests can spot these gentle giants alongside pods of dolphins and other Pacific marine life through the lenses of several telescopes set along Terranea's coastal bluffs.
- ❖ Terranea's scene-stealing backdrop has attracted Hollywood film crews since the 1950s, when Lloyd Bridges starred as ex-Navy diver Mike Nelson in the popular TV adventure series, Sea Hunt. More recent blockbusters, such as Pirates of the Caribbean, The Aviator, Pearl Harbor, Charlie's Angels, and Fun with Dick and Jane, spotlight the resort's dramatic landscape and oceanfront setting.

Terranea's gathering spaces incorporate original paintings, designs, and sculptures created by artists from the local community. Each piece is a reflection of the area's picturesque natural beauty and vibrant heritage.

- ❖ Seasonal dining menus feature local, sustainable ingredients from the region, as well as organic, freshly picked ingredients from the Chef's Garden at signature restaurant mar'sel. Located just steps from the kitchen, the garden produces an assortment of herbs year-round. Other distinct culinary offerings at Terranea include honey, lemons, olives, eggs, fruits, and vegetables from the property and nearby garden, kelp harvested from the surrounding waters, as well as housemade sea salt, cheese, charcuterie and olive oil by the chefs at Terranea.

ECOLOGICAL PHILOSOPHY AND STEWARDSHIP AT TERRANEA RESORT

Natural Haven Terranea Resort retains the essence of the unspoiled beauty of California's coast, meticulously designed with the utmost reverence for its native environment. Guided by the philosophy of ecological sustainability, the resort's aesthetic embraces a continuous interplay with nature and the coastal habitat of the Pacific Ocean. Every effort has been made to protect and steward this unique environment on the Palos Verdes Peninsula, preserving one of Southern California's most scenic and coveted coastlines for future generations.

Minimal Impact Terranea is dedicated to protecting the valuable coastal resources that define the Palos Verdes Peninsula and make this singular destination one of the most valued natural locations in the world. Since its inception, Terranea has remained committed to minimizing its environmental footprint by integrating transparent eco-friendly practices throughout the resort, including—but not limited to—those that protect open space, improve wildlife habitats, and enhance local water quality. Today, Terranea occupies only one-quarter of its 102-acre site, allowing guests to enjoy more than 75 acres of natural landscape.

Additional environmentally friendly measures supported at the resort:

- Terranea Resort continues to expand its commitment to sustainability and green practices by including food waste recycling, energy and water usage reduction.
- The resort collaborates with Chefs to End Hunger, a non-profit organization that redistributes prepared food that would normally go to waste in hotels, restaurants, and other foodservice operations to local food agencies serving meals to those in need. Terranea regularly donates its safely chilled and unserved surplus food to the cause. Since we started the program in 2017, the resort donated more than 20,284 pounds of food through this program. That is about 10.1 tons of organic "waste" diverted from the landfill to those in need.
- Terranea provides bins for recycling glass, paper, plastic, and aluminum and regularly educates staff on how to properly utilize these resources through its Green Team: a dedicated volunteer team of engaged employees who support new and innovative ways to enhance Terranea's eco-commitment.
- Terranea donates partially consumed, wholly usable toiletries left in guestrooms to the Midnight Mission in downtown Los Angeles. In one month alone, this can amount to over 380 pounds of toiletries diverted from the landfill and sent to those in need. Since we started this program in 2017, Terranea has diverted over 3,500 pounds of toilet paper and 4,839 pounds of toiletry bottles from the landfill (4.2 tons total). That amounts to approximately 27,184 toilet paper rolls and 61,052 toiletry bottles donated to those in need.

- No land was removed from the area during the development of Terranea. Instead, existing structural and raw materials were recycled in the site preparation, including more than 65,000 tons of onsite stone quarried, crushed, and utilized under roads and walkways.
- Approximately 45 mature trees, legacies of Marineland of the Pacific dating over 50 years old, were carefully boxed and preserved during construction and then replanted throughout the site as a tribute to the area's history.
- Terranea employs natural irrigation and water treatment through a series of wet ponds and vegetated wetland channels called bioswales. These wetlands enhance water quality while serving as a habitat for native avian species. First flush rainfall collection systems called Storm Filters also reduce and treat the runoff of pollutants.
- The resort's native plant palette features coastal species indigenous to Palos Verdes and the Channel Islands. The development team worked diligently to restore, protect, and preserve the ecological balance of the area by replacing non-native plants with indigenous ones locally cultivated and grown by the Palos Verdes Land Conservancy to reinforce biodiversity. Pesticides and fertilizers are limited to those which are either organic in nature or pose no residual effect on the environment.
- Terranea's sustainable growing philosophy incorporates seasonal dining menus that feature local ingredients and organic, freshly picked produce and herbs from the Chef's Garden and the resort's nearby garden plot. The resort is also home to chickens at its farm, allowing the culinary staff to harvest eggs on-site.
- Terranea collects plastic bottle caps and lids as well as corks to be repurposed. The plastic bottle caps and lids are donated to the Redondo Beach Kiwanis Club for the Buddy Bench program. The lids and caps are melted down to form benches that are installed in parks for children to find a "buddy" when they are lonely. The corks are donated to the Cork Club, who donates $0.02 per cork to ocean and forest conservation efforts. The corks are repurposed all over the country for various projects.

Natural Encounters

Terranea Resort encourages guests to explore its unique ecology and embrace environmentally friendly practices through a variety of conservation programs, as well as exciting and educational activities.

More than 14 acres of wildlife habitat surrounding the resort make it easy to observe the local fauna at Terranea. The resort offers many opportunities to view a range of wildlife in their natural environs, from tracking whale migrations to spotting the endangered El Segundo Blue Butterfly, and more.

Wildlife opportunities:

- Naturalist-led tours guide visitors along the resort's extensive walking, hiking, and bird watching footpaths along the scenic Discovery Trail, part of the Palos

Verdes Peninsula trail system. The tours help further the awareness of the land's ecology, educating guests on the resort's coastal flora and fauna, such as the California crabapple, a rare species that grows only on the Peninsula and Catalina Island.

- California Blue and Pacific Gray whales migrate through the waters just 50 yards offshore, within view of Terranea nearly year-round.
- The Experience Concierge specializes in unforgettable indigenous recreational excursions, ranging from ocean kayaking, to tide pool treks through diverse marine habitat at the Terranea Beach Cove, and even falconry.
- For guest enjoyment and in support of the local community, several telescopes are set along Terranea's coastal bluffs, to view the whales, sea lions, and dolphins constantly present offshore. Proceeds from the coin-operated telescopes support area non-profit environmental organizations: The Palos Verdes Land Conservancy, Marine Mammal Care Center, and Algalita Marine Research Foundation.

Green Measures

Understanding that protecting natural resources and reducing waste requires the participation of many, Terranea is committed to innovative solutions that help inspire guests and develop a greater degree of environmental stewardship.

Additional green measures:

- Hybrid and low-emission vehicles are used on-site to reduce carbon emissions and carpool programs are encouraged for resort staff.
- Dimmers, motion detectors, low-voltage devices, and fluorescent bulbs are utilized to reduce total lighting energy consumption.
- Terranea's golf tees are completely biodegradable.
- Guestrooms offer voluntary reuse program for linens and towels.
- Plastic straws were replaced with paper straws and no balloons are allowed on property.

CULINARY EXPERIENCES AT TERRANEA RESORT

Culinary enthusiasts can raise a glass to California coastal cuisine with gourmet flair at Terranea Resort in Rancho Palos Verdes, CA. The breathtaking oasis invites guests to explore a range of dining destinations amid glistening waves and vibrant sunsets of the Pacific Ocean. Terranea's nine exceptional venues cater to an international palate with fresh coastal fare and offer settings with warm, inviting atmospheres and spectacular ocean views, making it one of Southern California's top spots for a culinary getaway.

Led by Bernard Ibarra, Vice President of Culinary Experiences and Executive Chef, Terranea's culinary team celebrates the natural surroundings of the resort by using locally sourced products from Terranea's grounds and the surrounding peninsula. The resort continuously increases its focus on sourcing and utilizing local and sustainable ingredients by harvesting Meyer lemons from on-site lemon trees, expanding its on-property herb and vegetable gardens, adopting beehives and chickens, and serving meats and vegetables from local farms, including its newly expanded organic farmland nearby. Olives (and olive oil), honey, and seasonal produce are all harvested on the farm as part of a lease with a local Peninsula farmland owner. Of exceptional note, Chef Ibarra also gathers and produces sea salt with water from the Pacific Ocean in salt beds at Terranea's Sea Salt Conservatory and tends to the resort's newly added chickens collecting their fresh eggs to be integrated into menu offerings. From land to sea, Terranea's cuisine embraces the beauty and tastes of the peninsula.

For an exclusive behind-the-curtain look at Terranea's culinary offerings, the resort hosts a bi-monthly Chef's Table Dinner Series. The intimate, chef-led dinners provide guests with an interactive culinary experience featuring a three-course meal and wine pairings, with proceeds benefitting a local charitable organization.

Terranea launched the Land to Sea Culinary Immersion Package that provides an unparalleled three-day, two-night culinary experience. Guests have the opportunity to take part in VIP access to the Chef's Table Dinner Series; interactive workshops highlighting the Catalina View Gardens farm tour, sea salt, and honey harvesting; sommelier-led wine tastings; and much more.

Dining options at Terranea Resort include:

mar'sel

Terranea's signature restaurant, mar'sel, exudes the warmth and classic elegance of Southern California set against a panoramic ocean backdrop. Inside the dining room, natural woods and rich chocolate undertones complement vivid coral accents and Pacific views to create a relaxed, yet sophisticated atmosphere. mar'sel takes its name from the Spanish term for sea, mar, and French term for salt, sel – a reflection of its contemporary twist on the California-inspired menu, including fresh flavors and seasonal creations made with local ingredients grown in Terranea's gardens. For an authentic taste of coastal cuisine, guests may dine al fresco on mar'sel's outdoor terrace amid warm sea breezes. Guests can also linger over an extensive wine and cocktail menu at the upscale bar or stargaze beside the stone fire pit. A private dining room offers an intimate setting for special occasions.

Nelson's

A guest favorite for casual dining, Nelson's is perched directly above the ocean coves made famous by the 1950s television series Sea Hunt – from which this modern surf shack takes its name. The cliff-top eatery pays homage to Sea Hunt's main character, Mike Nelson, as well as actor Lloyd Bridges' lifetime efforts to protect the environment and the ocean. Guests enjoy coastal cuisine and a warm, friendly bar atmosphere surrounded by outdoor fire pits and unrivalled sunset views.

THE SPA AT TERRANEA

Overview

Coastal breezes and the gentle echo of Pacific Ocean waves offer a serene oasis to rejuvenate body and spirit at The Spa at Terranea.

This multi-award-winning spa takes a unique approach to wellness by paying particular attention to the timing of a guest's visit, recommending treatments according to nature and Circadian Rhythm. Treatments are organized into “Morning & Early Afternoon,” “Bridging Time,” and “Late Afternoon & Evening” menus. Around mid-afternoon, the natural biological process reverses and one's body temperature begins a slow cooling, with blood pressure dropping and hormones encouraging relaxation. With that in mind, an expert therapist might recommend the "Sound Sleep" experience from the “Late Afternoon & Evening” menu, crafted to aid those who are finding it challenging to unwind, having difficulty sleeping, or repairing from long-haul travel. Earlier spa visitors may be guided to an energizing treatment, such as the “Oil and Water” experience, which combines seaweed-rich laminaria oil, revitalizing ocean sea salt exfoliation, and the soothing waters of a Vichy shower. The spa also welcomes guests to choose their own treatment experience, with qualified spa professionals available to assist in finding a personalized option.

Local ingredients from the resort's farm (such as raw honey and lavender) are often incorporated, based on availability.

Design

Spanning 50,000 square feet, The Spa at Terranea features a tranquil Mediterranean ambiance with state-of-the-art design by the foremost experts in wellness and restorative therapy. Natural stone, native woods, bamboo, and water elements transition indoor to outdoor spaces seamlessly, preserving a delicate harmony with nature. All 25 private treatment rooms overlook Catalina Island and the glistening, panoramic seascape of the Pacific Ocean. The spa additionally includes an oceanfront yoga and movement studio, expansive fitness center, full-service salon, Solviva, and boutique. Lush garden settings surround the private Spa pool and hot tubs, relaxation lounges, and fire pits, situated throughout 25,000 square feet of outdoor space.

Course Overview:

Nine-hole, par-3 golf course, totaling 1,239 yards. Holes range from 104-173 yards.

Course Description:

The Links at Terranea offers a singular golf experience in Southern California, set apart by lush natural terrain and dramatic vistas overlooking the Pacific Ocean and Catalina Island.

Named “Best Golf Course in the South Bay, Readers’ Choice Awards” by Los Angeles Times; “World’s Best Golf Destination” by DEPARTURES magazine; “Development of the Year” by Golf Inc.; and rated second in its class by GOLF magazine, the nine-hole, par-3, oceanfront course was designed by Todd Eckenrode of Origins Golf Design in Irvine, CA.

The collection of nine challenging par-3 holes masterfully routes through the natural surroundings while integrating with one another. Elevation changes, green contours, artful bunkering, and unobstructed sightlines enhance The Links’ wide range of strategic elements. Totalling approximately 1,239 yards, the course features tee placements ranging from 104 to 173 yards for an inviting short- and mid-range setup that appeals to both new and experienced golfers.

Players enjoy an expansive, multi-tiered short game practice area with chipping and putting greens, as well as private and group instruction, junior player lessons, and golf clinics led by The Links’ PGA professionals. The Golf House offers premium golf club and walking cart rentals, golf accessories, and apparel, while a relaxed outdoor seating area overlooks the surrounding scenic coastline.

Alongside its award-winning course, expansive short-game practice areas, and PGA professional golf instruction, The Links at Terranea offers a Full-Swing Golf Studio. This state-of-the-art Foresights Sports GC2 Golf Simulator allows players of all skill levels to perfect their swing in a virtual golf environment. The studio's Launch Monitor and V1 Golf Video software provide real-time statistics, as well as feedback to improve individual games.

The Links' Golf Academy offers instruction with on-site PGA professionals that focuses on short game, full swing, and playing strategies, a teaching philosophy that revolves around the fundamentals of the game. The Golf Academy offers access to some of the best instruction and best training equipment available, giving guests a chance to practice like a pro, along with the backdrop of Terranea's stunning oceanfront setting. PGA instructors help golfers evaluate every aspect of the game, share proper practice techniques, and show how short game mechanics can improve play and consistency with every club.

Eco-Design:

The Links at Terranea incorporates natural irrigation and treatment through vegetated wetland channels called bioswales, containing plant species that remediate secondary water sources through sedimentation, filtration, absorption, and vegetative uptake. In addition to enhancing water quality, these wetlands serve as habitat for native species. Nearly all the run-off that makes its way through the bioswales and surrounding areas is contained in two filtered holding ponds. Many local divers and water enthusiasts have said that the waters off of Terranea are much clearer since the opening of the resort in 2009.
